

Mr. David H. Spencer

Founder, SenSpa

David H. Spencer is founder of SenSpa, a wellness center that will combine Eastern and Western healing traditions, in San Francisco's Presidio. In addition to offering treatment services to alleviate chronic health problems and to promote a sense of well being and relaxation, the center provides space for corporations and individuals to conduct educational and teambuilding seminars.

Mr. Spencer is the founding Director and former Executive Director of BayKids, a non-profit organization serving disabled and underprivileged children in the San Francisco area. He now serves on the board of directors of the organization. BayKids promotes creative self-expression by providing filmmaking, broadcasting and innovative opportunities to children, many of whom are in need and have disabilities.

Before his two-year tenure as BayKids' Executive Director, Mr. Spencer spent six years in Major League Baseball. He worked in community outreach and marketing with the Oakland A's and San Francisco Giants. Born in New York City, Dave has lived in the Bay area for thirteen years. Mr. Spencer graduated from Claremont McKenna College in 1986 and earned his MBA from Stanford University in 2003.
